If you put the tax-free goods in your suitcase or other bags as "check-in baggage," please make sure you obtain customs confirmation before checking in your baggage with the airline company.

Customs inspect your possession of the tax-free goods.

※If you carry a large amount of tax-free goods, inspection at customs will take time. Please check in for your flight or ship early so that there is time to spare.

3. If you DO NOT POSSESS the tax-free goods upon departure, you have to pay the consumption tax at customs.

- If you have transferred or consumed the tax-free goods prior to departure, you have to pay the consumption tax.
- You may be subject to penalty (imprisonment up to one year or a fine up to a maximum of 500,000 yen) if you have transferred the tax-free goods prior to your departure from Japan.
- ※ The handling to receive confirmation of export (so-called handling unaccompanied baggage) by presenting documents evidencing export to customs upon departure was abolished on March 31, 2025 (In principle, if you purchased an item by that date, it may be eligible for the "handling unaccompanied baggage" even if it is shipped separately after April 1, 2025.).

- When you purchase the tax-free goods, tax-free shops confirm your eligibility for tax-free purchases. In addition, persons eligible for tax-free purchases are limited to those who reside in Japan with the status of residence of "temporary stay", "diplomacy" or "official service", and other persons.
- If you are no longer eligible for tax-free purchases after purchasing the tax-free goods (such as when you change your status of residence to something other than "temporary stay"), the consumption tax will be collected from the director of the tax office having jurisdiction over the address or location of residence at the time you are no longer eligible for tax-free purchases.
In this case, please present your passport and other documents to the Tax Office.
- This leaflet can be downloaded from the website of the National Tax Agency.
